Call of Interest for 2 Researcher Positions

The Institute of Molecular Biology and Biotechnology (IMBB) is seeking to identify outstanding candidates for 2 tenure-track positions in key areas of Biomedical Research. Candidates at a higher level will be considered in exceptional circumstances.

Ultimately we seek to hire intellectually engaging, creative and highly interactive Researchers who will contribute to the further development of biomedical research at IMBB. Areas of interest:

Immunology

Systems Biology

We are particularly interested in candidates who will be using multidisciplinary approaches to address exciting questions in modern Biomedical Research. We seek to identify candidates who will interact widely with scientists at IMBB and the other Institutes of FORTH and the broader campus of the University of Crete.

The candidates will be expected to ultimately establish strong and externally funded research programmes. A start-up package will be provided.

Applicants should send a detailed CV, a brief outline of research interests and contact information for three referees (name, affiliation, e-mail address), electronically, to: Mrs. Georgia Choulaki (imbb@imbb.forth.gr).
