

2nd IRB BARCELONA PHD STUDENT SYMPOSIUM

Organized by the IRB Barcelona PhD Symposium Committee
L'Aquàrium, Barcelona 17-18 November 2011

Mónica Bettencourt Dias

Instituto Gulbenkian de Ciência, Oeiras, Portugal

Julius Brennecke

Institute for Molecular Biotechnology,
Austrian Academy of Sciences, Vienna, Austria

Aaron Ciechanover

Center for Cancer and Vascular Biology Research, Technion-Israel Institute of Technology, Haifa, Israel

Anne-Claude Gavin

European Molecular Biology Laboratory,
Heidelberg, Germany

Christian Griesinger

Max Planck Institute for Biophysical Chemistry,
Göttingen, Germany

Piet Gros

Crystal & Structural Chemistry, Utrecht University, Utrecht, Netherlands

Conly Rieder

Wadsworth Center,
New York State Department of Health, Albany, USA

Erik Sahai

Tumour Cell Biology Laboratory, Cancer Research
UK London Research Institute, London, UK

Sarah A. Teichmann

University of Cambridge, Cambridge, UK

Life in Motion - Dynamics of Molecules and Systems will focus on motion and dynamics and their importance in various aspects of life ranging from molecules to systems. Nine internationally renowned speakers from different areas will share their perspectives with about 150 participants, some of whom will be invited to give short talks or present posters of their current work. The conference will also include a plenary discussion for all participants.

REGISTER ONLINE
BY 03.10.2011

www.irbphdsymposium.org phdsymposium@irbbarcelona.org

Registration fee is €50 and the number of participants is limited.

INSTITUTE
FOR RESEARCH
IN BIOMEDICINE

IRB Barcelona PhD Student Symposium Committee:

Manuel Alonso, Lara Barrio, Kader Cavusoglu, Eva De Mol, Andrey Dyachenko, Sabine Klischies, Jordi Lanuza, Laura Mendieta, Milica Pavlovic, Selma Pereira, Radek Pluta, Irena Stevanovic

Hosted by

Sponsored by

